“Arbor Day Tree Planting to be Held Friday”

It's been a tradition since 1872 when J. Sterling Morton founded the first Arbor Day to set aside one special day a year for planting trees. Norfolk Mayor Sue Fuchtman will celebrate the event this year by planting a tree on this year's Arbor Day, Friday, April 24. The event will take place at Skyview Park with a tree to be planted on the north side of the lake at 3:30 pm. Pat Mrsny, City of Norfolk Park Superintendent, has set up the site where the tree will be planted near the concrete parking lot at the west end of the road that begins at the park's Maple Avenue entrance. The public is invited to attend.
